P. G. Zalsman Burial

The sudden passing of Philip G. Zalaman last Thursday afternoon was a severe shock to most everyone in the community, so well was to old and young through his long connection Grayling Fish Hatchery. Zalaman dropped dead grounds, just outside the fish hatchery from a heart attack at 3:30 o'clock. He was directing some work being done by a crew of CCC men when he suffered the Grayling Fish Hatchery was built in 1914 by Grayling men and sportsmen coming to this region interested in fish propagation, and Mr. Zalsman was hired as superintendent. Some years ago the institution was taken over by the state and Mr. Zalsman, who knew just about everything there was to know about fish was retained in the superintendency position. He had studied fish for years and had the reputation of being one of the best fish culturists in the state. He and his men kept the buildings and grounds in excellent condition, making this one of the beauty spots and places of interest in Grayling. He had a hobby of collecting various species of fish and placed his exhibit in various places about the state at times of festivals or carnivals, where it always was a big attraction.

Mr. Zalsman was born in Holland, Mich., Feb. 21, 1866 of parents who were from the Neth-His boyhood was spent there and when he herame a vound man he worked for his father for followed fish propagation which nomination by a large majority was for over 37 years. ELECTION NOTES

A light primary election vote is reported in nearly every voting precinct in the state.

Close race betwen Governor Comstock and Judge Lacy kept those candidates in doubt at a late Merie Nellist for prosecutor and circuit court commissioner; Frank Sennett for sheriff; Ronnow Hanson for register of deeds; Ben Carpenter for state senator; Arthur Wendt and Harry Sorenson for coroners; Harry Souders for road commissioner and Esmond Houghton for surveyor, without opposition in the general election in November.

Reports from Roscommon county indicate the election of Charence Smith for prosecuting attorney over the present incumbent, John J. Donohue. Horace Failing was water tor shariff and Andrew Price for county treasurer.

Returns from the district indicate the election of Ben Carpenter of Harrison for state senator by a large majority over Ber Mercer of Clare.

Grand Ledge, the home of Frank D. Fitzgerald, Republican candidate for governor, votes as fol-lows: Fizgerald 878; Groesbeck 59, and Smith 6.

Mr. Fitzgerald is a native of Grand Ledge and is 49 years of age, a comparatively young man. It may be said of him that he has been virtually brought up in the service of the state.

His first public office was that of supervisor of the city of Grand Ledge, the first Republican supervisor ever elected in that city. As a young man he went to Lansing as committee clerk in the legislature of Michigan. He next took a position as clerk in the depart ment of state, the department that he presides over now. During the war he served as executive secretary of the federal food administration and when the war ended he was appointed deputy secretary of state in which position he wa erving when Alex J. Also the "dictatorable" laws passed by the senator's legislature became binding and put ap end to much of the gay life in New Orleans, for the "old regular" machine which has ruled the city for years was helpless. Governor Allen, Long's henchman, has full power to enforce the new laws brough the state police or the militia. ON THE advice of Sol Rosenblatt, NRA has indefinitely suspended the provisions of the motion picture inlustry code designed to limit salaries of stars and executives and to eliminate alleged unfair competitive methods in bidding for stars under contract with another company. Mr. Rosenblatt made an investigation and in his report said:

"A star or executive is worth as much as the public can be led to think he is worth by paying to see his offerings. BECAUSE of his unwavering opposition to what he considered the extravagent expenditures of the government and to its inflationary monetary policies, Lewis Douglas has resigned as director of the budget. As had long been fight-ing against carmin of the administration's policies, without avail. The twoyear budget plan lion dollars, prelast January, did not have his approval: nor had the billion dollar deficiency appropriation bill and the schemes for the purchase of ignation was finally brought about by the announcement of Secretary Morgenthau that the so-called profit of two billion eight hundred million dollars resulting from the devaluation of the gold dollar would be used to curtail the public debt in-curred by the New Deal. Since currency is ultimately to be fasued against this "profit," and since there is only about five billion dollars of currency now in circulation the Morgenthau plan contemplates a 50 per cent inflation.

The President appointed as acting budger director Daniel W. Beil. a permanent employee of the treasury. It was understood in Washing ton that there would be a general rearrangement in the Treasury de partment which would concentrate all fiscal powers in the hands of Secretary Morgenthau. Several officlais who are not in full sympathy with the New Deal will be let out.

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE WALLACE thinks it may be corn fodder in order to keep availdrouth area for relief purposes. The form administration is to set up an office in Kansas City for the purnose of making a survey and locating all types of animal feed. The office also will assist county drouth committees in arranging pools of individual farmers to make purchases. The government will not buy any feed itself for distribution.

M ANY of the dalry cattle bought by the government in drouth areas are of high breed and so will not be signghtered. The federal relief administration gave out a statement saying: "It is planued to either exchange some of these high breed drouth cattle for scrub cattle now in the possession of rolled or rural rehato such families where the need has been determined. Under this progiam the low-grade scrub cattle would be slaughtered where techanges were made. The exchanges or limbance of cattle without exchange, would be made upon recommendation of the various county to-Haf administrations and county rural rehabilitation supervisors."

STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Department Gets Strange Requesta

The Department of State is a "clearing house" for information relative to state government,

Despite the manifold duties intrusted to the department by law, every mail brings strange requests for information. These requests every week ask for information concerning the proper procedure in cases where workers fail to receive PWA checks, or where the worker feels that there is some irregularity concerning the work In each case, the request is re-ferred to the proper department.

Other recent requests ask for information concerning the height of high tension wires; if notaries public can perform marriage cere-monies; if the state issues peddler's licenses. One of the strangest requests received in recent weeks called for information concerning Congressional districts in Gasoline Tax Shows Increase The automobile gasoline tax for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1934 was $1,600,000 more than was collected for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1983. Records of the Department of State show that for the twelve months ending June 80, 1984 a total of $15,741,210 was paid into the state coffers from this source.

Expenses Filed With Co. Clerks All campaign expense accounts under the law, are filed with county clerks. Candidates file their personal accounts with the clerks in the counties in which they reside. County campaign commit tees for candidates seeking state or national offices file in their own counties while state campaign committees file their accounts in the home county of the candidate. The law requires that all expense accounts be filed within 10 days after a primary election.

No Snow Houses for Eskimos The only snow houses, or igloos, viewed by the majority of Eakimos have been those portrayed by motion pictures, says G. R. Turner in the Kansas City Times. In North America and Greenland there are approximately 80,000 Eakimos, three-fourths of whom have never seen a snow house, and of these only a fractional number have ever spent a winter in one. In summer most Eskimos live in tents made by stretching skins over boles, and in winter they usually dwell in houses made of turf or earth laid on a framework of driftwood, or whale ribs. The igloo, or snow house, is constructed chiefly by hunters.

read and approved.

Report of Finance Committee To the President and Members of the Common Council of the VIIlage of Grayling:

Your Committee on Finance Claims and Accounts respectfully recommend that the accompanying rills be allowed as follows:

BELLEVING the enceptary phase of agricultural adjustment is about ever, the AAA efficials are simplifying their program for the fature. Tentatively they propose these central plans for 1865:
Wheat—10 per cent reduction in acreage below that of the base period, 1990-82 inclusive; desired acreage, about $2,000,000; desired production, 750,000,000 to 775,000,000 bushels.

Corn-Possibly a 15 to 20 per cent reduction in acreage, instead of 20 to 30 per cent as specified by the 1964 program. Hogs and other live stock-direct control, supply being regulated by adjustment of feed crops. Cotton-10 to 15 per cent acresses reduction under base period, 1928-82, inclusive, instead of about 40 per cent; desired acreage, 52,000,000 to 37,000,000; desired production, 11,500,000 to 13,900,000 bates.

Dear Mr. Wynn:

Can you help me out? The in alde of my home has been painted and the odor of fresh paint annoys me, What shall I do to take away the smell of the fresh paint? There are nine rooms in the house. Yours truly.

I. M. CHOKING.

Answer: In a house of pine rooms use the following formula: Fourteen pounds of onions—slice fine; two pieces of garlic-crushed; then, mixed into onions. Place about one and one-half pounds of this mixture in each room. That DAIDL

BURNING THE BOOKS

HAVE fust come across an old Roman legend relating how the Cumeen sibyl offered Tarquin the Froud hime books at a price. Tar-quin refused them.

The sibyl burned three of the books and offered him the remaining six. But the price was the same! Naturally he hughed at her. Then she burned three more and offered him the remainder at the same price she had asked for the nine. This time he paid the price. And, of course—or there would be no story!---the books were found to be vitally important mines of information on Roman policy, which he sorely needed, and the most val-uable were those that had been destroyed.

1 shall preach no moral on lost opportunities. But that ancient story does point right at so many people we know in this modern day, who fail to value things until they become hard to get, until, like the books offered to Tarquin, their price has gone up.

It is not only the material things about which we sometimes show such a distorted sense of values. I am thinking more of matters of in-terest, friendship, love.

People offer us their friendship, and we sometimes wonder what they want of us or pass up that offer that is made so freely that it seems cheap. Sometimes second thought or a vagrant inspiration impels us to pick up that thread; and we may find that what we thought cheap was generosity undervalued—until something of it was destroyed.

There are many things in life about which it is costly to be casual, or careless, or arrogant, as was that ancient ruler about books which held the answer to his needs. Things are not always valuable or importent in proportion to how high their price or how easily they are within our reach.

Note from the magazine Asia. The leg rowers of the lovely Inle take in the southern Shan states of Burma propel a boat with great power and perfect control by standing on one leg and entwining the other around the paddle for the stroke, which is circular in action, with the sharp finish so characteris-tic of the good waterman. It is said: "The most disappointed man and of the good waterman, it is you ever met was a chap who has not, of course, rowing with the leg, but with the whole weight of the halitosis' only to find out he was unpopular anyway. A Monis Rear That

The New Mundus is the favorite beer of men. But it is also becoming mighty popular with women. It is the only man's beer that women say they like.

85 out of every 100 men and women who have tastis this New Mundus, said they liked it better than all other beers. That's why there's such a big swing to the New Mundus Flavor-Tested Beer today.

This New Mundus has that rare taste of imported beers. Is not bitter and not sweet. Has that full-bodied flavor that hits the spot. Quenches thirst. Refreshes. It leaves a pleasant after-taste. Get some today and try it.

Who Said Fishing Wasn't Any Good?

Pointing out that he has had just as good fortune with his fly rod this year as in previous seasons, Jack Redhead, popular Grayling guide, stopped at the Log Office last week long enough to take exception to current reports that the AuSable is fished out.

Redhead says that while it is all very true that many have found the stream rather sparing in its contributions to the creel, he has had several limit catches and never yet has come home skunked. His remarks amplify communications and correspondences received at the Log Office bearing evidence of other successful treks

The fish have been choosy, alright," he continued, "And I remember one occasion when seven fishermen spent the largest part of a day on the stream and came home with but one or two trout. But I put in where they came ashore and in less than an hour and a half had caught my limit. Hundreds were rising on all side and by using the proper flies was rewarded with a strike almost every time my bait hit the

The time is fast approaching when a large percentage of our boys will be leaving the CCC forever. Many warm friendships have been made. We shall miss you. Our feelings at parting will be comparable to those of the college graduate at the hour when he packs up and leaves familiar scenes and faces.

> In his talks with various and sundry enrollees the Chaplain is impressed with the large number who have completed all but one year necessary for a high school diploma. He suggests that these boys in each camp be enrolled in what might be called a "Three Year Club." Perhaps by banding together and putting forth some concentrated effort they might make some arrangement whereby sufficient credits could be obtained from a nearby High school for work done in camp this winter.
